LOUISE KENNEDY

Based in Dublin, Louise Kennedy is one of Ireland's best known and successful designers.

Originally from County Tipperary, she attended the Grafton Academy in Dublin before establishing her own fashion label in 1986. Since then, she has established an international reputation for the understated refinement of her style, she is renowned for producing beautiful clothes of exceptional quality.

According to Louise, the essence of style is "relaxed simplicity". Her reputation for attention to detail and the many design awards she has received are just some of the reasons why Louise Kennedy was chosen to become the designer of Tipperary's premier range of crystal.

An example of Louise's remarkable versatility and flair for interior design can be found in her home in Merrion Square, Dublin's most beautiful example of 18th-century urban design. Under her design supervision the Georgian house has been completely refurbished to act as both headquarters and a retail outlet for her work. Both here and at her boutique in London's Belgravia, she has attracted such clients as Gwyenth Paltrow, Yasmin Le Bon, Minnie Driver and Julianne Moore.
